WE NEED TO DO OUR BIT

Council unveils fresh plans to combat global warming

WEST Oxfordshire District Council have approved a plan which will see it continue contributing to the global effort in tackling climate change.

Cabinet members voted last week on the Low Carbon and Environmental Plan, which looks at key actions that can be made locally to help reduce environmental impacts.

It follows on from a climate change policy introduced by the council in 2008, and builds upon efforts to cut its own carbon emissions.

The plan will detail how the council works with residents, businesses and community groups to influence energy reduction.

Cllr David Harvey, cabinet member for environment, said: "It is important that we all do our bit in helping to try to tackle climate change.

"It seems all the more pertinent to be launching this new plan at a time of continuing extreme weather in the UK, with ongoing flooding problems.

"The council has taken big steps in reducing our own carbon footprint, while working with and supporting communities, local action groups and individual residents and businesses.

"We hope that this new plan clearly sets out that we remain committed to leading by example, while providing support to help others play their part."

Other actions set out in the plan include supporting local policies on climate change by reducing emissions by 50 percent by 2050 relative to 2008 levels in Oxfordshire.

It is also supporting residents and businesses to make energy efficiency improvements, continuing to reduce waste and maximise reuse and recycling, and promoting sustainable transport.

The council will continue to work to lower its own emissions by three per cent annually until 2015, as part of a target set by Climate Local Oxfordshire, which commits the county's local authorities to manage climate impacts.

More information about the council's climate change policy can be found at www.westoxon.gov.uk/homeenergy.

Mother wants justice after death of Connor

Man, 20, appears in court charged with teen's murder

THE mother of 17-year-old Connor Tremble, who died after being stabbed in his Oxford flat, has said she wants "justice" for her son.

Thames Valley Police has charged 20-year-old William Blencowe from Banbury with Connor's murder.

Connor died in the John Radcliffe Hospital last Saturday, following an incident at Fairacres Road at 6.45pm on February 13. He was stabbed a number of times in the legs, chest and hands.

His mum Lisa said the loss of her son has "ripped [her] heart into pieces".

In a statement, she said: "Connor was a much-loved son, big brother, nephew and grandson."

"His death has ripped my heart into pieces and I feel I have been robbed of something priceless."

"I want justice for Connor and to appeal for anybody with information regarding his death to come forward."

"I urge you to think about the value and delicacy of life."

Connor's father, Martin Smith, added: "Connor was a charming, happy-go-lucky boy, a dearly loved son, big brother and grandson and he will hold a place in my heart until the day that I die.

"Wherever he is, may he have found peace and comfort. He will be greatly missed."

Tributes have also been pouring in on social media with a Facebook group, 'Justice for Connor Tremble', attracting over 2,700 likes.

Dion Greaves wrote: "R.I.P mate! you will be sadly missed!!", and Julie Woods posted: "Justice for Connor such a lovely young man xx god bless xx".

Family and friends also set off lanterns in to the night sky at Spiceball Park in Banbury last Sunday evening.

A fundraising page has also been set up to raise money for two memorial benches in Oxford and Banbury.

Last Sunday's post-mortem did not establish a cause of death.

A 21-year-old man from Birmingham, arrested on Saturday on suspicion of assisting an offender, was released without charge.

Blencowe appeared at Reading Crown Court yesterday.

Duo sentenced

TWO men from Oxford have each been sentenced to two years and three months in a detention centre for sexually abusing a teenage boy.

Iztullah Qudrat, 19, and Ghausel Tarakhail, 20, have also been placed on the sex offenders register for 10 years.

Qudrat admitted to engaging in sexual activity with a 14-year-old boy in the toilets in Bury Knowle Park.

Tarakhail admitted to inciting the victim to engage in sexual activity.

Lorry driver fined after bridge restriction breach

A LORRY driver from Kidlington who admitted breaching a weight restriction on Shabington East Bridge, near Thame, has been ordered to pay a £500 fine, £130 costs and a £50 victim surcharge.

Graham Hosier, 48, of Waverley Avenue, was spotted crossing the bridge by an Oxfordshire County Council bridge technician on June 19 last year, which was subsequently followed up by the Trading Standards team.

The bridge has a three-tonne weight limit after surveys determined it to be weak, and Hosier was prosecuted for driving a vehicle of a weight up to 7.5-tonnes.

Richard Webb, the council's Trading Standards team's manager, said: "Bridge weight restrictions are there for a very good reason as limits are how much a bridge has been assessed as being able to safely take at a time."

"Ignoring restrictions mean drivers of heavy vehicles are putting other bridge users and themselves in danger, as they could cause a serious accident through a bridge collapse."

"It may be tempting for drivers to flout the rules in order to take a short-cut, but it's always better to take the long and legal way round to ensure other road users' safety."

"I hope this case acts as a warning to other drivers who might be thinking of ignoring bridge weight restrictions."

Soldier has home burgled

• Colonel Adam McRae

THE former commanding officer of the 11 Explosive Ordnance Disposal Regiment, based in Didcot, has had his family home in Marcham burgled.

Colonel Adam McRae MBE, now stationed in Andover, led 11EOD's welcome parade in the town last October.

The regiment had just returned from a six-month tour of Afghanistan.

However, on February 10, his family home on the A415 Abingdon Road was burgled.

Between 7.40am and 2.20pm, offenders forced entry to the rear patio doors of the property, taking sentimental items and his children's Christmas presents.

An Emerald ring with ten surrounding diamonds, a large Gold locket engraved with flowers and an Omega Seamaster watch were stolen.

The latter item was presented to Col McRae by 11EOD and has a regimental crest on it with 'Lt Col A D McRae MBE' engraved on the strap.

Felix Bomb Disposal and Olympic tiepins as well as a silver decanter were also taken.

Electrical items such as an iPad, two Kindles, two Kindle Fires, cameras, laptops, a Wii U console, controller and games were also stolen in the burglary.

"It is not nice to come home and find someone has been in your house and taken things," said Col McRae.

"It's the sentimental items, the other things, it sounds horrible, but it is just stuff.

"The sentimental items, the ring, the locket, the watch I was given by the regiment. They are just irreplaceable.

"If I got nothing else back and just those three items I would be happy."

He continued: "I wasn't targeted because I was in the army.

"I have had lots of people saying lots of nice things but it still doesn't make it any better."

Col McRae lives with his wife and two children, aged 10 and 12.

He added: "My children were quite frightened.

"The Kindle Fires were theirs and the Wii U was bought for Christmas as well so they have lost their presents."

"The police have been brilliant, very quick, very helpful, and are still working and talking to us.

"I have been really impressed."

PC Mark Allmond said: "This is a very busy main road through Marcham so we are appealing for anyone who saw anything suspicious or who might have some information about this."

If you have any information contact PC Allmond on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

County still wary of flood water threat

• Andrew Smith MP, Cllr Bob Price, Nicola Blackwood MP and Cllr Rodney Rose in Downing Street to discuss flooding

OXFORD'S politicians visited 10 Downing Street yesterday to call on the government to back a major flood defence project that would protect the city and surrounding areas.

MPs Nicola Blackwood and Andrew Smith, county council deputy leader Rodney Rose and city council leader Bob Price made the trip to discuss the impact flooding has had on the county's economy.

They told advisors to the Prime Minister that the full benefit of the recently signed city deal could be undermined by failing to invest in adequate flood defences.

In the discussions, they also pressed the case for building the Western Conveyance Channel, which would see water diverted around Oxford more efficiently.

Ms Blackwood, MP for Oxford West and Abingdon, said: "We have made the case loud and clear to Number 10 that the human and economic cost of flooding every year is unacceptable.

"The Western Conveyance will protect homes and businesses and I hope that government, local authorities and business alike will join forces to make it happen."

Oxford East MP Mr Smith said: "Flooding with the scale and frequency we have seen recently could cast a blight across the huge economic potential of central Oxfordshire.

"That has to be a matter for national as well as local action."

Cllr Price said: "I was pleased with the clear level of understanding that the advisors showed at our meeting.

"They were committed to tackling the problem we face with flooding in Oxford seriously."

Cllr Rose added: "We make every effort to keep Oxford open for business, but when people have trouble getting in and out of the city, the county and regional economies are hit hard too.

"Flooding costs Oxfordshire's economy around £50million a week each time it happens, and we want to ensure that everyone with an interest in the county works together to tackle this problem.

"Flooding is not a problem that should be allowed to continue."

It is thought that the Western Conveyance Channel, along with a similar scheme for Abingdon, could cost up to £125million.

The councils have argued that additional national funding needs to be found to make the scheme viable.

A flood summit is due to be held in March, to bring stakeholders together to find ways to make the channel happen.

New librarian for Bodleian

OXFORD University's Bodleian Libraries has a new librarian.

Richard Ovenden will succeed Dr Sarah Thomas as Bodley's Librarian and also become a fellow of Balliol College.

Mr Ovenden has held the position on an interim basis since August last year.

Cyclist dies after collision

A CYCLIST died in Oxford on Monday morning after colliding with a car.

The collision happened on the Watlington Road, the B480, at the junction with Garsington Road in Cowley.

Police were called at 5.41am to reports of a collision between a Nissan Micra and a cyclist.

The male rider died at the scene.

Thames Valley Police arrested a 39-year-old man from Reading on suspicion of causing death by dangerous driving. He is on bail until April 10.

The force is appealing to anyone with information to call 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Husband Phil takes challenge to heart

AN OXFORDSHIRE couple are encouraging as many people as possible to become organ donors, after a severe illness has greatly affected their lives over the past year.

Phil Marshall is set to complete four increasingly difficult challenges to raise awareness for organ donation through their 'I give you my heart' campaign, after his wife Sarah was diagnosed with pulmonary hypertension.

Sarah was first hospitalised early last year when she tried to get up one morning and collapsed on the floor, struggling to breathe.

But it would take another seven months before doctors finally diagnosed the condition.

"It was very difficult," said Sarah. "Because we didn't know what was wrong with me, it was incredibly frustrating."

"I could hardly move, I couldn't breathe properly, everything just went wrong overnight, it was very strange."

Sarah was a teacher in Fritwell, near Bicester, before she fell ill, while Phil works in Banbury. They live in King's Sutton, on the Oxfordshire-Northamptonshire border.

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

On their donation page, www.igiveyoumyheart.org, Phil said Sarah has made progress from not being able to walk at all, to managing 200m after three months of aggressive drug treatment.

However, he writes that doctors are unwilling to give any prognosis on her life expectancy, but it is estimated between two to 10 years. This can be prolonged for some people by having a heart and/or lung transplant.

Many sufferers die while waiting for a donor.

Phil added: "The whole 12 months has been a real roller-coaster of all sorts of emotions, through frustration to just being sad at times with the diagnosis."

It was after discovering more about pulmonary hypertension that Phil decided to raise awareness for organ donation by planning his four challenges.

He will start off by running a half-marathon in April, followed by a full marathon, 85-mile race

• Phil and Sarah Marshall

walk and then culminating in a 100-mile run in August.

"One of my strengths is that I can be quite determined and bloody-minded at times, so the idea of doing something involving endurance is something that appealed to me," said Phil.

"It's obviously very daunting as it's a massive challenge."

Phil is not looking for sponsorship through his challenges, but is instead asking people to take a pledge to sign up to be an organ donor.

Sarah said: "If you are on the list then it is important to make your family aware. They then won't be surprised and they'll know that this is what you wanted."

"And by talking to them, you might encourage them to put their name down as well."

Council leader hails response teams after tree incidents

OXFORDSHIRE County Council have dealt with more than 140 fallen trees or big branches since Friday, after strong winds affected southern England.

More than 40 staff have been involved in clearing the trees across the county, which led to a number of road closures.

All parts of the county were affected in equal measure, and tree specialists and highways crews have been working day and night to respond to the volume of incidents.

Cllr Ian Hudspeth, leader of the county council, said: "I'd like to thank our highways teams who have been out and about in the most treacherous of weather conditions to deal with fallen trees and clear roads for traffic."

"Exceptionally high winds and driving rain in the darkness hours is hardly the ideal working environment and I am sure it was a very difficult night."

Woodstock Road in Oxford was affected by a fallen tree, which badly damaged a street-lighting column.

Other roads affected across the county were in Banbury, Woodstock, Chipping Norton, Burford, Steventon, Sutton Courtenay and Great Rollright.

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Josh Florey feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps."

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and Josh is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated." So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Josh a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Boy attacked

A 14-YEAR-OLD boy was assaulted by another boy in Banbury on Friday, in what police believe is an unprovoked attack.

The assault took place as the victim was walking to school along Upper Windsor Street at around 8.20am when he passed the offender, who grabbed him and pushed him to the pavement.

He fell to the ground and the offender, who did not say anything during the assault and was not known to the victim, walked off.

The offender was of a similar age to the victim, was wearing a school uniform and carrying a black rucksack.

Anyone with information should contact PC Ruth Ivins on 101.

Council approves £64m cuts in latest budget

OXFORDSHIRE County Council approved its 2014/15 budget on Tuesday, which sees around £64million of cuts as funding from central government is reduced.

The Conservative proposal was passed by 30 votes to 27, after amendments by the Labour, Liberal Democrat and Green groups were rejected.

An increase of just under two per cent will be made to council tax, which is the highest increase that can be made without the need for a referendum.

Cuts to services include £7.1m

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

from adult social care, £6.4m from the children, education and families budget, and over £600,000 from fire and community safety.

Around £11.2m will also be cut from the environment and economy budget, £2.5m from public health and £1.5m from cultural services, which includes public libraries.

Speaking on Twitter, council leader Ian Hudspeth said: "This is my second budget as leader of the council, I had hoped that it would be easier than last year's. However, that has not been the case. In 2010 we started to reduce the budget by £201m. We now have an additional £64m to make, bringing the total to an eye-watering £265m. This budget will put extra money into youth protection, mainstream welfare rights and respite breaks for children's carers and flood relief.

"It will also abolish 15 minute home care visits, put an extra £1m into highways, and maintain laundry services for incontinent residents.

"These are essential services that we need to deliver for the vulnerable people of Oxfordshire."

The three other political parties at the council all proposed amendments to the budget, with the Liberal Democrats suggesting that more money should be borrowed, which they said could save money long-term.

Cllr Zoe Patrick, speaking on Twitter, said: "[It was a] long day debating budget cuts. Pity our amendments were voted down, but let's wait and see."

Labour's proposals, which included providing funding for youth workers and safeguarding the 'dial a ride' service, were also voted down.

And a Green party amendment which proposed a 4.5 per cent rise in council tax to reduce the amount of cuts was also rejected, with that level of increase requiring a referendum before it could be brought in.

Cllr Sam Coates said on Twitter: "All other parties voted against [the] Green plan to save vital services for vulnerable.

"We will now see even more cuts to homelessness, care services and other vital lifelines for our most vulnerable neighbours."

The budget has proven controversial with residents in recent months, and protestors were outside County Hall on Tuesday morning as councillors arrived for the meeting.

And on Saturday, a march was held from Manziel Way to Bonn Square in Oxford ahead of Tuesday's meeting, with residents protesting against the level of cuts.

It was organised by the Oxford People's Assembly.

Developer 'must produce West Way EIA'

A COMMUNITY group have welcomed a decision by Vale of White Horse District Council that developer Doric Properties will need to produce an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) to supplement their proposals for the West Way shopping centre in Botley.

West Way Community Concern has objected to a number of Doric's proposals, and is holding a public meeting next Thursday about the issue.

The group is concerned that the planned development is not suitable for Botley, and last year hundreds of people gathered to link hands around the site in protest.

Co-chair of the group Chris Church said: "This is a victory for local campaigners. We will wait with interest to see how far the EIA is done to a proper standard."

Last week, the Guardian reported that Doric were set to plant nearly 200 trees as part of its development plans of West Way.

The planning consultation stage for the proposals ends on March 27. For more information, go to www.whitehorsedc.gov.uk/vale4business/west-way.

Children's charity's royal visit

AN OXFORDSHIRE-BASED children's charity has celebrated more than 100 years of work with a special visit from HRH The Countess of Wessex.

Local dignitaries, trustees and supporters of PACT, and local schoolchildren, descended upon Dorchester Abbey last Thursday to commemorate the charity's centenary.

Sophie, Countess of Wessex, buried a time capsule, containing items collected from a number of PACT projects, in the Abbey's grounds.

Jan Fishwick, chief executive of PACT, said: "The day was about celebrating the work of PACT and to showcase what we do."

"We were thrilled to have the Countess of Wessex here to come and take an interest in the work we do and to support us."

PACT's aim is to build and strengthen families through adoption and fostering and community projects.

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The charity was set up in 1911 when Lord Stanmore provided the Bishop of Oxford, Francis Paget, with a £100 donation.

Ms Fishwick added: "Our society has changed but the work we do and the reason why we exist is very similar."

"We buried a time capsule to serve as a record of our work so far and as a celebration of all that we have achieved."

One family that has benefited from PACT's work is the Harris family who live in South Oxfordshire.

Tony, 47, and Sarah Harris, 42, adopted six-year-old Nicheala when she was just a year old.

Despite attachment issues throughout her first year with the family, she is now a "very happy and lively six-year-old", who loves to play video games with her eight-year-old brother Theo.

"She was quite agitated," Tony and Sarah explained, "and because she couldn't talk, she could not explain her feelings."

• The countess chats to six-year-old Nicheala

"She was with people she did not know and did not understand what was going on."

"We had our difficulties and PACT gave us a lot of support. We got through it all and we settled in very nicely."

"The adoption process was very quick and with PACT the people are so experienced at what they do it simplified the process and

• Sophie buries the time capsule

we got through it very easily."

The countess also opened The Highfield Unit at the Warneford Hospital in Headington, and visited the Oxford Food Bank.

Silencing the howling hounds

CHERWELL District Council received 120 complaints during 2012/13 relating to noisy dogs, it has been revealed.

Reports of loud dogs accounted for 17 per cent of overall noise complaints in that period, and with six weeks of the 2013/14 financial year remaining, the figure has risen to 159.

Cllr Tony Ilott, lead member for public protection, said: "As a country we are known for being a nation of dog lovers but it is very easy to fall out of love with a dog that barks, howls and whines all hours of the day and night."

"Nobody should be forced to tolerate a noisy neighbour, even if the culprit has four legs and a tail."

"In some instances, the owner may be unaware of the disruption so a polite chat may be all that is needed to resolve the problem. However, if that fails, Cherwell's antisocial behaviour team is here to help restore the peace."

If an investigation is required, a member of the antisocial behaviour team can serve an abatement notice, with further legal action possible through the magistrates' courts.

Santa robber still wanted by police

POLICE are continuing to search for a man who robbed an Oxford store dressed in a Father Christmas outfit, and are re-appealing for witnesses.

At around 9.30am on December 23, the man entered the Next Store in Oxford Retail Park, Cowley, and walked into a staff area.

He then threatened a member of staff with a knife and demanded cash from a safe, and after being handed over money he then made off on a bicycle towards Blackbird Leys bridge.

The offender is described as white, of medium build, between 5ft 9ins to 6ft and in his thirties. He was wearing a blue fleece and jeans under the Father Christmas outfit.

Next are offering a £10,000 reward for information should a conviction take place.

Det Sgt Mark Stalder said: "This was a frightening incident which has left the staff member very shaken."

"We would urge anyone shopping around the Oxford Retail Park this morning who saw a man on a bike, dressed as Father Christmas, and who has not spoken to us already to get in touch as a matter of urgency."

Anyone with information should contact Det Sgt Stalder on 101.

A FREE smartphone app that gives nutritional information on over 80,000 packaged food and drinks has been launched by a team which included researchers from Oxford University.

FoodSwitch provides a 'traffic lights' rating system related to health, including fats, sugars, salt, protein and fibre.

It also suggests alternative products to help consumers

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

wanting a healthier diet, and was developed by the George Institute for Global Health along with Oxford University researchers.

Dr Peter Scarborough works in the British Heart Foundation Health Promotion Research Group at Oxford University, and he believes it will help people trying to lead a healthier lifestyle.

He said: "With all the messages about health in the public eye, it is hard for consumers to know what is 'healthy'.

"The established nutrition criteria used in the app shows customers products that are healthier overall, not just whether they are higher in salt, fat or sugar."

Professor Susan Jebb of the university's Nuffield Department of Primary Care Health Sciences added: "A poor diet is responsible for tens of thousands of premature deaths every year in the UK."

"People will be able to use this smartphone technology to swap the foods in their regular shopping basket for healthier options to help themselves and their families to cut the risk of diabetes, heart disease and some cancers."

FoodSwitch identifies foods by people scanning the barcodes with their smartphone camera, and then looks through its database to find the relevant information.

If a product is not listed, shoppers can take photos of the missing items to be validated and added to the database for future use.

Katharine Jenner, campaign director of FoodSwitch UK, said:

"The app puts the shopper back in control."

"It is not about telling people to stop eating or avoid certain foods with red colours, but rather highlighting differences in products."

"This new app will allow people to take responsibility for their individual and their family's health, and improve their eating habits in an easy and fun way."

FoodSwitch is free to download, and is available for iPhone and Android phones. For more information, go to www.actionon-salt.org.uk/foodswitch.

Work starts on £430k Blackbird Leys pavilion

WORK officially started on the new Blackbird Leys Pavilion on Friday, which is set to be home to Blackbirds FC and Greater Leys FC once complete.

The pavilion is owned by Oxford City Council, and the brand new facility will have changing rooms, official rooms, toilets and a tuck shop, with the construction costing approximately £430,000.

Cllr Mark Lygo, board member for parks, sports and events, said: "This facility will provide local teams with a high standard of facilities."

"We hope that it will increase the number of players and see them improve in their respective leagues."

"The ward councillors and sports officers have, and will, continue to work with the football clubs to ensure that they will be sustainable for the up and coming years."

Work comes at part of the council's Pavilion Modernisation Programme, which aims to improve 12 pavilions across the city as well as build a new facility at Grandpoint Recreation Ground.

Blackbird Leys pavilion is a replacement of an existing building, which was condemned almost eight years ago.

'IRA' claims responsibility for packages

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A GROUP claiming to be the 'IRA' says it was responsible for the suspect package found at an Army Careers office in Oxford last week.

The package was discovered at the office on St Giles last Thursday morning, with police cordoning off the street for more than two hours.

Similar packages were found at six other locations across the South East.

A spokesperson from Metropolitan Police said the group made the claim to a media organisation in Northern Ireland last Saturday.

"We are aware of the claim of responsibility for the devices that were sent to army recruitment centres in England last week," a statement read.

"The claim was received on Saturday, February 15, by a Northern Irish media outlet using a recognised codeword.

"The claim was allegedly made on behalf of the 'IRA'."

Prime Minister David Cameron chaired a COBR (Cabinet Office Briefing Room) meeting at the end of last week to discuss the devices.

Downing Street released a statement last Friday saying the packages bore "all the hallmarks of Northern Ireland related terrorism".

A Number 10 spokesperson said: "Guidance has been issued to staff at all military establishments and Royal Mail asking them to be extra vigilant and to look out for any suspect packages.

"The national threat level remains under constant review."

Officers from the South East Counter Terrorism Unit (SECTU) assessed the contents of the package found at St Giles.

MOD Bomb Disposal Units were also called while the area was temporarily cordoned off as a precaution.

Det Supt Stan Gilmour of SECTU said the package posed "a very low level threat".

He added: "When a suspect package is reported we have a routine response which means we may need to evacuate the area if necessary until we can be sure it poses no threat to the public.

"Whilst this can cause concern and disruption for local communities, it is a necessary precaution until we know what we are dealing with."

The street and nearby buildings were evacuated as the emergency services and army dealt with the incident, before reopening a few hours later.

News Bites

And... action!

YOUNGSTERS in Oxford will get the chance to make their own movie and hold a special screening for their friends and family.

The city council is offering filming sessions for 10 children, aged between 8 and 14 years at Barton Neighbourhood Centre.

Children will be shown how movies are made, including how to edit clips on computers.

The sessions start on February 25 from 4pm until 6pm at Barton Neighbourhood Centre.

If you want to be involved or find out more, contact Karimu Corbeek at kcormbeek@oxford.gov.uk or call 01865 252680.

Street attack

A 40-YEAR-OLD man who appeared to be begging in Oxford was assaulted during a conversation with an unknown man earlier this month, who punched him to the ground and kicked him in the chest.

It took place at 5.25pm on February 9 on New Inn Hall Street, and the offender is described as white, wearing a black top and carrying a black backpack.

The victim was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital, where he was treated for a cut lip and swollen jaw. Call 101 with information.

New graduate scheme is set to benefit young people in Oxford

• MINI Plant Oxford intern Ciaran Raymer discusses performance processes with associate Ziaur Chowdhury

BMW has launched a new 24-month graduate programme, with the majority of its placements to be in Oxford.

The brand new programme has 13 places available across the country's MINI plants, with eight based at Cowley's Oxford MINI plant.

Starting in October this year, graduates will complete five different placements on strategic and operational projects over a two-year period.

BMW say this will allow apprentices to "gain an insight into business process, strategy and culture from both a UK and global perspective".

Holly Chalmers, BMW Group UK's recruitment and staffing manager, said: "We are looking forward to recruiting talented young people who have a passion for the motor industry."

Student Ciaran Raymer, 23, is currently working at MINI Plant Oxford as an intern as part of his year in industry.

He said: "I've had the opportunity to work with and learn from experts in their respected fields giving me access to an unparalleled level of knowledge."

"The launch of the new graduate scheme is really exciting and will be a great opportunity for anyone wanting to pursue a career in the automotive sector."

Oxford leads new stroke research

AN OXFORD study into strokes and other acute vascular events is set to be used in a new online resource by the National Institute for Health Research.

The Oxford Vascular Study (OXVASC) was launched online earlier this week.

It looks at strokes, coronary events and peripheral vascular events in a population of 92,000 people across nine Oxfordshire general practices.

It considered the occurrence, causes and consequences of these events, to help doctors get an insight into the different aspects of the conditions.

Professor Peter Rothwell is the principal investigator for OXVASC, and is based at the Stroke Prevention Research Unit, Nuffield Department of Clinical Neuro-

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

sciences.

He said: "Few of these early recurrent strokes were prevented in practice because of a lack of understanding about the risk and the optimal treatment."

"We showed that the early risk of major stroke was very high, we developed simple risk scores to identify which individuals were at highest risk, and we showed how best to prevent major stroke."

"I am delighted to share a platform with some of the country's key researchers in stroke."

"I hope the new online resource helps to raise awareness of clinical research in our region and encourage more patients across the country to take part."

There are around 18,000 strokes per year in the South East, and last year over 2,000 patients in the region took part in stroke research.

The study also looked at Transient Ischaemic Attacks (TIA or 'mini-stroke'), which often precede a major stroke.

This research showed that emergency treatment after TIA reduces the risk of a major stroke by as much as 80 per cent, leading to changes in clinical guidelines in the UK and beyond.

It is estimated that 10,000 strokes will be prevented each year in the UK alone as a result.

Professor Rothwell's study, along with many other research papers relating to strokes, can be found at www.focusonstroke.nihr.ac.uk.

Leader Lottie rising up for women

A THAME woman is leading a group of eight females in a trek to the highest point in North Africa, and is hoping to raise £1,500 for charities Giving Africa and Limb Power.

Lottie Moore, 44, is leading the group up the 4,160m to the summit of Jbel Toubkal in Morocco, which they hope to complete on International Women's Day on March 8.

It comes after Lottie and her daughter moved to Burkina Faso, in West Africa, for much of 2010, after she had been suffering from near poverty.

"At the time I left for Africa I had nothing in my mind more than escaping the life I was living," said Lottie. "It resulted in an experience beyond all expectations."

"Now I am going back to Africa and I can't wait. The six night women's trip climbing Toubkal will be a huge challenge, but it will encourage us to look beyond our limitations."

• Lottie Moore, pictured during her time in Africa, will be leading eight women to the summit of Morocco's Jbel Toubkal next month

"None of us have a huge amount of experience as walkers and we are all of regular fitness. I predict we will be getting through a lot of Kleenex with all the tears at the summit!"

Lottie is also the founder of women's help group WISH Women. For more information, go to www.wish-women.org.uk.

MP's Column

Andrew Smith

MP for Oxford East

Coping with aftermath of flooding devastation

FLOODING continues to be a major concern, even with the welcome news that the relentless arrival of storms and heavy rain may have abated.

In many locations across the county residents are still coping with the aftermath of the floods, and many fields are still under water, with serious consequences for farming.

In my own constituency, such is the flood and groundwater pressure on the sewerage system, that even where their homes haven't been flooded, a number of residents have been unable to use their toilets for weeks on end. It has left them with the unpleasant necessity of trooping out to portaloos in the middle of the night.

This all underlines how essential it is both to get long-term measures in place to prevent flooding, and to do whatever we can in the short term to improve local flood defences.

Lessons are learnt from every flood, and some areas which flooded badly in 2007 have been protected this time, because of flood barriers and intensive pumping. A big thank you to the emergency services, council, Environment Agency and Thames Water front-line workers who have been working so hard to help our communities.

The letter which I, city council Leader Bob Price and Nicola Blackwood MP wrote to the Prime Minister on the economic as well as the human cost of the flooding has resulted in a meeting at No10 Downing Street, where we will be pressing the case for the western relief channel, which is the only measure which will significantly reduce the threat of flooding in Oxford.

The County Council, which is the lead local authority on flooding, has organised a floods summit for March 21, where we will be co-ordinating our work for flood protection right across the county.

There has been a good community spirit in dealing with these floods. There are always lessons to be learnt. There is always more which needs to be done, both in local measures and in keeping up the global effort against climate change. Whilst no-one can say for sure that recent floods are the consequence of climate change, they are certainly consistent with the greater frequency of abnormal weather events which the science on climate change predicts.

I think it is important that politicians at all levels in our county pull together, across party lines, in getting the measures we need, and the help which affected residents, businesses and farmers deserve. I will do my best to ensure this happens.

Oxford and Grenoble's 25-year celebrations

Chair signed by stars raffled off for charity

A DECKCHAIR that was signed by a number of music stars at last year's Cornbury Festival is set to be raffled off to raise money for Helen and Douglas House.

Van Morrison, Keane, James Arthur and Imelda May are amongst the names to have signed the chair, which is being offered in the raffle along with a holiday in the Caribbean.

The raffle will be held at Helen and Douglas House's comedy and music fundraiser 'Childish Things' at the Oxford New Theatre next month, which features a line-up including Jimmy Carr and Rob Brydon.

This year's show is set to be the 10th and final 'Childish Things' to take place on March 24 and 25, after organisers cited difficulties in finding acts each year.

It has raised more than £500,000 for the hospice in the past decade, with last year's show collecting over £100,000.

Raffle tickets will be available at the event on March 25, with show tickets starting from

• Dozens of signatures feature on the deckchair, which will be raffled off for Helen and Douglas House

Tickets for both days are available from the New Theatre website www.newtheatreoxford.org.uk, or by calling the box office on 0844 871 3020.

A PROGRAMME of art exhibitions, book events, concerts and photography displays are being staged in the city later this year, to celebrate 25 years since the twinning of Oxford and Grenoble, France.

Representatives and twinning association members from Grenoble will travel to Oxford for a week of festivities, taking place between April 26 and May 3.

It has been organised by Oxford City Council and the Oxford-Grenoble Association (OGA), with guests from Grenoble being welcomed at a number of civic and cultural events.

The celebrations will be launched by Lord Mayor of Oxford Cllr Dee Sinclair and OGA chair Mel Houldershaw on April 26 at the Town Hall.

Ms Houldershaw said: "Around 80 performers and Grenoble friends are coming over for the celebrations, led by the dynamic Marie-Christine Simiand, who last year was awarded an MBE for all she has done for us."

"She and Team Grenoble entertained us in style on the 20th twinning anniversary, so now it is Team Oxford's turn!" Cllr Bob Price, leader of the city council, added: "We are very much looking forward to welcoming our friends from Grenoble."

"The Silver Jubilee of the twinning is an auspicious occasion and the Oxford-Grenoble Association put on a really enjoyable week of events to celebrate the 20th anniversary."

"I am sure that the programme for the 25th will be equally successful and will reflect the strong links that have developed between our two cities."

Key events include the art exhibition 'Alps and Spires' at the Town Hall, book talks at Blackwell's Bookshop and an Anglo-French concert at St John the Evangelist Church.

A photography exhibition by Paul Medley, entitled 'Grenoble University: Between the city and the mountains', will also be staged at Blackwell's Bookshop throughout April.

More information and updates about the week of events can be found at www.oxford.gov.uk/twinning.

News Bites

Man charged

A 29-YEAR-OLD man has been charged with dangerous driving and speeding in Horspath.

He will appear at Oxford Magistrates' Court on February 28.

The charge is in relation to an incident on Cuddesdon Road on January 21.

Plans shown

ROSE Hill Community Centre's final plans have been unveiled at two events organised by Oxford City Council.

The new centre will bring several existing services together under one roof, including the social club, advice centre and youth club, as well as providing a new doctor's surgery, gym and office for Thames Valley Police.

In addition, the existing sports pavilion will be demolished, with the centre expected to be completed during spring 2015.

Cllr Ed Turner, deputy leader of the council, said: "I am pleased that we have been able to show the final plans to the community and show them that we have listened to their feedback."

"We are now in the process of tendering for the developer and we hope work will start on site in the next few months."

DIVORCE IS NEVER EASY

But we try to make it easier.

Divorce can offer many the chance for a fresh start and a happier outlook on life. So, you may be surprised to know in a recent study (published January 2014), QualitySolicitors found 89% of those surveyed were worried about their general direction in life after their divorce. With the four life areas for concern being living arrangements, finances, future relationships and relationships with children.

We all know the prospect of divorce and separation can be a challenging for you and your family, but with the right approach and support it doesn't have to be difficult. It's all a matter of making the right choices for you and your situation.

Here at QualitySolicitors Trueman's, our expert family law solicitors can work closely with you to understand your circumstances, so they can guide and support you through the whole process in a way that's right for you. After all, having the right legal support is vital.

We offer Free First Advice, so if you're facing a separation, contact us on the details below to find out how we can help and to see if we are the right solicitors for you.

'We'll do what show requires'

La Traviata

LA Traviata, Verdi's classic tale of love and sacrifice telling the story of 'fallen woman' Violetta, comes to the North Wall Arts Centre tomorrow and Saturday.

Three men rule Violetta's life, and this production reveals the hypocrisy and heartache behind the prohibition era of Atlantic City in 1928.

Both shows start at 7.30pm. More details are available at www.thenorthwall.com.

She's a sinner

TEENAGE singer Lauren Aquilina performs at Oxford's O2 Academy on Saturday, following the release of her second EP 'Sinners'.

Eighteen-year-old Lauren has been writing songs for the past decade, playing the piano since she was nine, and has already amassed almost two million video views.

Doors open at 7pm. Go to www.o2academyoxford.co.uk for more information.

FOLK musicians Éamonn Coyne and Kris Drever come to Didcot's Cornerstone theatre tomorrow, following the release of their critically acclaimed album 'Storymap' last year.

Éamonn and Kris met through the vibrant Edinburgh music scene, and first played together around eight years ago.

Since then, and in between their busy schedules working with other bands and musicians, the pair have continued to work together and release new material.

'Storymap' features a host of their musical friends, including Eliza Carthy, Simon Bradley, Megan Henderson and Calum McIntyre to name a few.

Éamonn's banjo-playing and tenor guitar, twinned with Kris' guitar and mandolin skills, has led to the album becoming increasingly popular.

"The reaction has been fantastic," said Éamonn. "People really like it, and lots of the tracks have been played and played."

Tomorrow's show sees Éamonn and Kris perform from 'Storymap' and their first collaboration 'Honk Toot Suite', as well as their own solo work.

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Éamonn added: "We tend to do lots of stuff, we're not specific to one album."

"We have a repertoire of about two hours to work from, so if you do an hour and a half show, you can only get through some of the stuff."

"We'll choose whatever we think the show requires, and just whatever we think about really."

"You basically get the best of the two of us, that's the idea. People who've come to the show before know what to expect."

Éamonn's solo album 'Through the Round Window' was released in 2002, while Kris' two releases are the 2006 album 'Black Water' and the 2010 record 'Mark the Hard Earth'.

The pair will combine tracks from these as well as their two albums recorded together, in what promises to be an entertaining show.

Tickets cost £14.50 for an 8pm start. For more information, go to www.cornerstone-arts.org or call 01235 515144.

Straits tribute

GUITAR ace John Brunson and his band of accomplished musicians, joined by saxophonist Nigel Hodge, pay tribute to Dire Straits at their show at Banbury's Mill Arts Centre on Saturday.

Known as Dire Streets, the group are considered as one of the best Dire Straits tribute acts playing in the UK, as they capture the sound of one of the biggest guitar bands of all time.

Go to www.themillartscene.co.uk for further details.

Comedy night

STAND-UP comedians Adam Bloom, Chris Martin, Andrew Bird and Mark Oliver make up the line-up at Oxford's Glee Club on Saturday.

The gig is part of the club's regular series of comedians on a Saturday evening. Doors open at 7.15pm, and booking details can be found at www.glee.co.uk/oxford.

'It's about piecing it together'

Sunny Ormonde

SUNNY Ormonde, also known as Lilian from The Archers, speaks about her 12 years on the renowned show at Didcot Cornerstone on Saturday.

As well as The Archers, Sunny has performed in numerous other productions during her career, and Saturday's show will also include a Q&A with the actress.

It begins at 2pm. More details are available at www.cornerstone-arts.org.

Hugless Doug

THE tale of lovable brown bear Hugless Douglas, who really wants a hug, comes to Henley's Kenton Theatre on Sunday.

Suitable for children aged three to seven, Douglas discovers that there are many hugs to choose from, but none can beat a big bear hug from his mum.

Two shows are planned for 11am and 2pm. Go to www.kentontheatre.co.uk for more information.

BRIGHTON-BASED two-piece band Royal Blood make their first trip to Oxford on Wednesday, following their recent nomination in the BBC Sound of 2014 poll.

Made up of vocalist Ben Thatcher and bass player Mike Keer, the band has only been performing for the past 18 months, and last week released their latest single 'Little Monster'.

This upcoming tour is in preparation for the duo's first album, which they are hoping to release by the end of the year.

"We've been writing for the last year," said Ben. "We've got quite a lot of the songs recorded, it's just about piecing it together now."

"It's all been pretty crazy for us really. We didn't think the first single ('Out of the Black') would blow up so big, so quickly."

"I guess releasing that first song we didn't expect the radio-play that it got or anything like that for a four-minute heavy rock song."

"Because we didn't have that much of a status right there for the band, we thought we'll gradually get up there, but it went really well and it's still doing really well. We were amazed."

Royal Blood's popularity has increased rapidly since they started off in October 2012, with comparisons made between them and The Black Keys, The White Stripes and Queens of the Stone Age.

Their first single received air-play on Radio One, XFM and Australian station Triple J, and they are now looking forward to their first headline tour.

Ben added: "We did our first supporting tour in October, which went really well, so we're looking forward to getting back out to those venues again and doing it properly!"

"There's going to be a couple of new songs that we're going to be trying out. The set's going to be a little bit longer, so we'll see how it goes really."

Wednesday's show takes place at The Art Bar in Oxford, with doors open at 7.30pm. For more details about the band, go to www.facebook.com/royalblooduk.

Get in the swing of it...

Flexi Membership at The Oxfordshire is the real alternative to traditional golf membership, this membership category enjoys the same playing rights as Full members and has access to protected members tee times, competitions and matches amongst various other benefits at the club.

The introduction of this unique membership has seen a significant increase in members at The Oxfordshire and continues to grow, due to the success of this the product, it will be rolled out at sister properties Chart Hills, Dale Hill and Sandford Springs from Spring 2014.

Ryan Bezuidenhout, Group Sales and Marketing Manager, 'we are making golf accessible with arguably the best value membership package available at the regions' most prestigious Resort. Additionally due to the continued investment on the course The Oxfordshire has been open throughout the recent adverse weather, another reason why membership at The Oxfordshire provides the best value.

For further details on membership option contact Justin Barnes on justinb@theoxfordshire.com.

Magnolia Park Golf & Country Club is one of the country's most challenging and picturesque golf courses, set in 200 acres of rolling Buckinghamshire countryside.

With its sweeping championship 18 hole course of around 7,000 yards, we believe it's one of the country's most challenging and picturesque golf courses.

The course is constructed to the very highest specifications, with superb views over the surrounding Buckinghamshire countryside. Our course is suitable for every golfer whether you are a beginner or professional. Set in over 200 acres of rolling Buckinghamshire countryside, the course was designed by Jonathan Gaunt, one of the UK's leading golf architects. To many, it is known as the closest a parkland course can be to a Links due to its beautiful water features and sometimes windy conditions.

Played from the forward tees, the subtle undulating fairways will offer an exciting game for golfers of all abilities, whilst the competition tees give the more experienced golfers a course with Championship potential.

Magnolia Park is not a course to be taken lightly; if you're playing well and taking full advantage of the conditions you can have a very enjoyable round. Peg it up thinking there's a low score to be had and this course will inevitably beat you.

Here at Magnolia Park Golf & Country Club we believe members and visitors alike should be able to experience the full benefits of our courses regardless of the season with the greens and tees open all year round.

"Stick, polished show..." - BEAT

Headline Act

Steve Day is a truly unique comedian - warm, witty and engaging whilst dealing with the dilemmas of being a deaf man in a hearing world. His stories of multiple children, wearing a suit and the problems caused by not knowing how words are pronounced will have audiences in raptures, and his uplifting tales of overcoming the obstacles in his path will leave crowds feeling inspired.
"revelatory and very funny" - The Guardian

Give Mum a morning to savour

IT MAY be the one time of year when mothers get to be waited on by their offspring, so why not start Mothering Sunday as you mean to go on with a lovingly prepared brunch or breakfast in bed?

With Dad taking charge in the kitchen, there are plenty of easy chores the little ones can tackle while Mum gets a well-deserved lie-in. And learning how to cook could have a positive impact on fussy young eaters as well.

Children's cookery expert Annabel Karmel says: "Tasks such as cracking eggs and stirring are well within the capabilities of a young child and it is amazing how being involved in the planning and preparation of a meal can stimulate a child's appetite."

When it comes to cooking with your kids, Karmel recommends picking recipes that lead to quick results as children have short attention spans.

"To start with, choose recipes that are simple enough for your child to make without too much help from you, then you can build up a repertoire of recipes they feel confident doing by themselves," she says.

Karmel's safety tips for cooking with kids

- Always make sure children wash their hands before doing any cooking.
- Never use wet hands to turn on a switch or pull out a plug.
- If they need to stand on a chair to reach the work surface, make sure it's very stable.
- Explain about heat and the dangers of steam, hot pans and hobs.

Now try one of these yummy brunch recipes to make mum smile...

By Diana Pilkington

Devilled mushrooms

(Serves 1)

25g butter
150g chestnut mushrooms, thinly sliced
2-3 drops Worcestershire sauce
-0tsp Dijon mustard
3tbsp creme fraiche (low fat is fine)
1 muffin, split and toasted
1tsp fresh chopped parsley (optional)

Melt half the butter in a medium frying pan. Add the mushrooms and saute over a high heat for 6-8 minutes until the mushrooms are golden. Stir in the Worcestershire sauce and mustard. Remove from the heat and stir in the creme fraiche.

Sit the muffin on a plate, spread with the remaining butter toasted side up, and spoon over the mushrooms. You can sprinkle with a little chopped parsley if you like.

Breakfast bear pancakes

(Serves 1)

125g self-raising flour
1 egg
125ml milk
4tbsp creme fraiche
1tsp vanilla extract
3tbsp maple syrup
20g butter
2tbsp vegetable oil
Fresh fruit, to serve (optional)

Chop up your fruit - thinking about what might work for your pancake bear's ears (banana), eyes (blueberries), arms (strawberries) and feet (kiwi) - be as creative as you like!

Put the flour in a large bowl. Whisk together the egg, milk, creme fraiche, vanilla, maple syrup and a pinch of salt. Add this mixture to the flour and whisk to make a batter (there may be a few small lumps, but don't worry).

Melt the butter in a large non-stick frying pan and tip it into a small bowl.

Mix 1 tablespoon of the melted butter into the batter. Use the rest to grease the pan. Drop 2 tablespoons of batter into the frying pan and cook the pancake for 2 minutes until brown underneath and just set on top (with small bubbles).

Flip over and cook for a further 1-2 minutes until golden and cooked through.

Lay one pancake slightly over the other - decide which will be the head and which will make the body and decorate with your fruit.

New Peugeot 308 proves a classy and sophisticated presence From strength to strength PEUGEOT'S new 308 continues the French firm's move up market; an initiative recently seen with the 208 and 2008.

With well-balanced proportions, the new car projects a classy and sophisticated presence: the front dominated by the brand's 'floating' front grille and the rear showcasing the three Peugeot (lion) 'claws' drawn by the rear LED lamps.

The 308 has also been on a serious diet, losing around 140kg compared to its predecessor, leading to significant reductions in emissions - this HDi 92

REVIEW: PEUGEOT 308

By Philip Shoulder

@writeonmotoring variant emitting 99 g/km of CO₂.

Step inside and you'll instantly notice a much more sophisticated cabin than before.

There's a similar pod binnacle layout as used in the 208, but here that integration with the rest of the dashboard is more fluid and sleeker.

Build quality sees a marked improvement on the old 308; everything feeling very well screwed together and the sound (or lack of) the doors closing is remarkable.

The new range comprises Access, Active, Allure and Feline models. Even this lower-end Active model gets a 9.7" touch screen infotainment system, incorporating satellite navigation; dual zone air conditioning, 16" alloys; USB input; Bluetooth, DAB radio; Auto lights and rear parking sensors.

An integrated infotainment system impresses with its look, feel and functionality and incorporates satellite navigation.

The majority of switchgear is accessed via intuitive on-screen menus, which keeps the dash uncluttered.

The 308's driving position is good, and the seats are comfortable and supportive.

Front and side visibility is good, but rearward it is hampered by a letter-box-shaped back window and thick C-pillars.

A fair amount of storage space and cubbies can be found in the 308's cabin, although the glove-box and door bins are on the petite side.

Headroom is generous, even on cars equipped with a glass panoramic roof. Leg room scores well, too, but in the rear it's on the tight side, only just managing to accommodate two six-footers front and back.

The boot is decently shaped and sized, at 470 litres. Rear seats fold 60/40, albeit leaving a slight step.

Although modestly powered, the 92 bhp 1.6 litre diesel's 230 Nm of torque allows for good tractability at low revs and ensures you won't be up and down the gearbox every time you encounter a hill, either.

Mixed route driving returned an average 47 mpg, some way off the claimed

• The new Peugeot 308

The five-speed manual gearbox doesn't quite have the slickness of the firm's six-speeder, but remains good. Brakes are reassuringly responsive, without being over-sensitive.

The chassis is fluid and controlled, which keeps the 308 flat through the corners, while the ride remains supple and smooth. Steering is responsive, but does lack some feel.

Refinement levels are about right for this class: the engine never booms and minimal tyre and wind noise enters the cabin.

VERDICT:

Peugeot have been going from strength-to-strength over recent years. This new 308 is the culmination of their efforts: it's a much better car than its predecessor and is worthy of comparison with any current rival.

Scotlands Ash Garage wins garage of the year 2014

DIDCOT based garage business Scotlands Ash Garage has won "Garage of the Year" at the Car & Accessory Trader (CAT) magazine 2014 awards.

The independent garage emerged victorious following a very competitive voting campaign, which saw the garage take to social media and local press to canvass votes.

The CAT awards are one of the largest of their kind in the automotive industry and Scotlands Ash Garage was up against two other garages throughout the UK.

Scotlands Ash Garage proprietor, Peter Welch, said: "It's incredible. We're a small business but we work hard to raise the profile of good car servicing and repair across Oxfordshire. To have so many people from the local area cast their vote for us is amazing and I'd like to say thanks to all of them for their support. And, to the Scotlands Ash Team, family, friends and customers, who have been with us on our journey, we thank them enormously."

In addition to Peter, the Scotlands Ash Team comprises of trained mechanics Steve Moxon, Nathan Edwards, Jack Jones, Stuart Florey and administrative support Gillian Hyde.

The CAT awards ceremony took place on 7 February at Twickenham Rugby Stadium, West London. CAT magazine is part of media giant Haymarket Media Group. Car & Accessory Trader is a leading business magazine aimed at the UK

Newport rally to end U's unbeaten away record

Tricky first day of testing for Williams

WILLIAMS F1 endured a difficult first day to the second pre-season test in Bahrain yesterday, after a problem with the fuel system cost the team several hours of running.

Felipe Massa only managed a total of five laps during the day and did not set a lap time.

The best time of the session of 1:36.880 was achieved by Force India driver Nico Hulkenberg, ahead of Fernando Alonso's Ferrari and Lewis Hamilton's Mercedes.

"It was a difficult day," said Massa. "It was frustrating for me but also for the whole team as we all wanted to get lots of laps on the board today."

"We had a few issues with the car which we are investigating and aim to solve for tomorrow and the following days."

"We know the most important thing is to get mileage on the car, so we hope to do that and get everything we want through until the end of next week."

Chief test and support engineer Rod Nelson added: "We were able to get some laps in at the end of the day, and aim [today] to get through as much of our planned running as possible."

Valtteri Bottas takes over testing duties for today's running, with the test continuing until Saturday.

OXFORD United's long-standing unbeaten away league record was finally brought to an end on Tuesday night with a 3-2 defeat at Newport County.

As the only professional team not to be beaten on their travels this season, United's away record, which stood at 14 games, had started to look fragile in recent weeks.

Draws at Exeter, Bury and Bristol Rovers were subtle hints that it was more when not if the run would come to an end.

And on Tuesday night, United were outplayed by Newport, who have only lost twice at home all season.

"The better team won without a shadow of a doubt," said caretaker manager Mickey Lewis.

"But listen it's one defeat in nine and I think sometimes you have to be calm and look at the bigger picture."

"You want the away record to keep going but we did say before the game that this might be our toughest test and it proved to be."

James Constable scored his 105th goal for the club to put United ahead against the run of play on 14 minutes.

However, Newport equalised on the stroke of half-time in rather fortuitous circumstances as Lee Minshull's shot deflected off Rene Howe and past the stranded Ryan Clarke.

Ryan Burge put County ahead in the second half and a mix-up between Clarke and Johnny Mullins provided Chris Zebroski with an easy tap-in.

United pushed forward and grabbed a way back in to the match through Alfie Potter but it proved to be just a consolation.

Lewis added: "We're disappointed with the performance."

"Perhaps it was one of those nights, summed up by the third goal."

"If you don't concede the third goal, and again I stress we didn't deserve anything from the game, we might nick a draw but that's the way it goes."

"We've just got to dust ourselves down and move on quickly."

United are still third in the Sky Bet League Two table and will look to bounce back when they travel to Morecambe this Saturday.

Lewis will hope Danny Rose can recover from illness after the midfielder was forced off at half-time on Tuesday while Dave Kitson (hamstring) is a doubt.

We have had a tough run of games, says manager Ford

OXFORD City boss Mike Ford wants his side to keep up the good performances ahead of an important period in their Skrill North campaign.

City were beaten 2-1 at league leaders North Ferriby United last Saturday and are currently third from bottom in the table, four points adrift of safety.

However, City have three games in hand over 19th placed Stalybridge and recent performances have been positive.

Ford said: "The run of games we have had has been really difficult. I think people need to remember that."

"We've played the top side twice, we've played Barrow who are unbeaten in about three months and we have got to play them again this Saturday."

"We have also played Colwyn Bay, who had won six on the trot, and before that we played Solihull who were top."

"We haven't been disgraced in any of them and we've just got to remember that we produced good performances and have got to keep producing them in these really important games."

After City face Barrow on Saturday, they will play five teams in the bottom half in the space of four weeks.

Hawks win

OXFORD Hawks hockey team picked up a much-needed win last Saturday, as they beat Sutton Valence 3-1 at home.

Sutton Valence opened the scoring, but two goals from Charlie Ellison and another from Matt Richardson earned Hawks a deserved victory.

Elsewhere, Oxford University Hockey Club's match with Eastbourne was postponed, after their 3-1 win against Bristol last Wednesday.

University are fifth in the South Premier Division 1 with 28 points, while Hawks are eighth with 21.

Hawks are scheduled to travel to Eastbourne on Saturday, while University make the trip to Spencer.

Staff wanted

BOTH Oxford Cavaliers rugby league teams are looking for new staff ahead of the new Southern Conference and West of England seasons, starting in April and May respectively.

Head coaches Glenn Tyreman and John Whitlow are looking for staff to coach once or twice a week during the summer, with most of the league games taking place between May and August.

Anyone interested in finding out more about coaching should contact Glenn on 07737 804769.

Stars are stunned by Pitbulls

OXFORD City Stars threw away a 3-0 lead against Bristol Pitbulls last weekend, eventually succumbing to a 5-3 loss on home ice.

Stars opened the scoring after just four minutes as Josh Oliver knocked the puck past Bristol netminder John Dibble.

No more goals came in the first period, but shots from Joe Oliver and Zach Dolphin in the second meant the home side were soon three ahead.

Pitbulls' fightback started in the 34th minute as Jordan Smith shot high in the corner to beat Stars keeper Ricky Young, and were soon only one behind with a goal just before the end of the second period.

They were level 35 seconds into the final period through a long distance shot from Alan Armour.

Four minutes from the end, Sam Shone broke the deadlock for the Pitbulls, and Adrian Smith added another in the dying seconds to steal an unlikely victory.

Despite the result, Stars remain top of the National Ice Hockey League South 2 with 25 points from 17 games.

Stars next play Slough Jets in the league cup on Sunday.

Harlequins make it a magnificent seven

OXFORD Harlequins have now won seven matches in succession in the South West 1 East league, following a 52-13 home win against Buckingham last Saturday.

Harlequins have won all but one match so far this season, and are comfortably top of the standings with 80 points from 18 games.

In the same division, Grove won their first game of 2014 as they triumphed 23-14 away to Maidenhead.

Grove are ninth in the league with 42 points, three points behind eighth-placed Devizes.

Harlequins next make the trip to Swindon on Saturday, while Grove host Buckingham.

Elsewhere, Henley Hawks' match away to Blaydon in the National League 1 was postponed due to the bad weather.

National League 2 South side Chinnor also didn't play at the weekend.

Hawks and Chinnor are both 13th in their respective leagues, with the latter not having played at all during February.

Chinnor are scheduled to host Clifton on Saturday, while Hawks are not in action until March 1 when they travel to Old Albanian.

COMMITTED TO THE AREA

London Welsh chairman sees Witney move as 'one of a number of options'

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

LONDON Welsh chairman Bleddyn Phillips says moving to Witney is one of "a number of options" and insists it demonstrates a "commitment to the area".

West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC) announced earlier this week that it had granted provisional planning approval to develop the former home of Witney Town FC.

London Welsh, who currently play at the Kassam Stadium with Oxford United, would erect temporary stands at the stadium at Downs Road to increase the capacity to 10,000.

Mr Phillips said: "It is very good news.

"But what I would stress is that I and the board have to act in the best interests of London Welsh, and that means that we will be looking at all the options and not discarding any.

"Witney is simply one of a number of options that we are looking at.

"It is obviously very encouraging for the Witney option and is very good news but of course for us to proceed we do require a number of hurdles to cross."

WODC will review their decision while Mr Phillips added the club would need to attract investors and obtain stadium approval from the Rugby Football Union (RFU).

However, Mr Phillips says that, despite the Exiles leading the Greene King IPA Championship, home attendances this season have been "disappointing".

"It has been ranging from between 1,000-2,000 people," he said.

"We had hoped that we'd be getting at least 2,000-3,000 so that's disappointing.

"Obviously there's things that can be done to wave the flag and encourage people to come and support us.

"It will help to reinforce us in the belief that Oxford is the place to stay, which we would like to do, but it is all dependent on trying to encourage as much support as possible."

Mr Phillips added that staying at the Kassam Stadium was "very much an option" but declined to comment on the possibility of a joint bid with Oxford United to buy the ground.
